The Country in November, 1916, Will Carry Out Another Tariff Wrecker by the Name of Wilson

WHAT THE FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS DID FOR THE TARIFF

Washington, June 22 (Special correspondence)—It was a sultry day in the month of August, 1894. Pages were turning before sketches through the aisles of the floor of the House. The galleries were crowded with spectators and as this was at a time before Woodrow Wilson discovered that an "insidious lobbyist" was one who argued for protection before the Committee of Congress, the corridors were filled with men who held a brief for some commercial interest. Representatives were perspiring freely, their collars wilted, their throats husky. There was the usual rumble of voices, interrupted frequently by the gavel of Speaker Charles F. Crisp.

At length the gavel pounded hard for order. The House quieted down so that a pin might have been heard to drop. The tense moment in many weary months has approached. The 53d Congress in the last round of a grueling contest was about to vote on the tariff act of 1894, familiarly known as the Wilson bill. The Yeas and Nays were ordered, and the conference report was adopted. The bill was ready for the signature of Grover Cleveland—a bill he refused to sign, but which became a law by virtue of the ten day Constitutional limit.

Immediately upon the announcement of the vote which placed on the statute books of this country for three years a piece of tariff legislation second only to the Underwood law for viciousness, pandemonium broke loose on the floor. William Jennings Bryan was then a Congressman from Lincoln, Nebraska. He had fought throughout for free trade; he was uncompromisingly for free trade, and free trade was the cry thrown to him. While the cheering and hand-clapping and stamping were at their height, Bryan, leading several others, jumped over the seats, and the hero of a transient hour, William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, was carried out on the shoulders of four brother tariff wreckers. The tumult became deafening, when up rose one Thomas B. Reed, later to be heard from as the great reorganizer of the rules of the House, and with that voice that would have overtopped the din of Verdun, he bellowed, "The country will carry him out in November."

What a prophecy. Glance over the list of the Members of the 54th Congress and the name of William L. Wilson will nowhere be found. That Congress was overwhelmingly Republican, and during the 55th Congress William McKinley presided over the destinies of this Nation. Thomas B. Reed put in force the celebrated Reed Rules, and Nelson Dingley of Maine, brought before Congress a tariff law which made the United States the most prosperous nation in the world. And in November, 1916, the country will carry out another tariff wrecker. And his name, likewise, is Wilson.

NOGAL

On last Friday afternoon two small children, a boy and girl, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Corder, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Arnold, were burned to death at the Arnold home near Alto. It seems that the children were playing in a corn crib and evidently had matches with them and set the shucks on fire. Mrs. Arnold heard the screams of the little children but was unable to extricate them until the neighbors arrived and removed their charred bodies. Interment was made at Nogal Saturday.

M. B. May of Tortolite Canyon has sold his ranch, cattle and horses to a man from El Paso. We are informed that the consideration was $10,000.

Complaint is being made to the postoffice department on account of so much mail from Carrizozo Sunday last. We have not learned the trouble.

Our range in the vicinity of Nogal is very dry and stock will suffer soon if we do not have rain in a short time.

Work on the Vera Cruz mine near Nogal is expected to start very soon.

DANCE AT CORONA JULY 1

A dance has been advertised for Saturday evening, July 1, at Corona. The dance will be held at Bond hall and everybody is cordially invited to attend. The best of music has been arranged for and a good time is anticipated. A number of Carrizozo people will attend.

DEMOCRATIC EDITOR PRAYS

In the last issue of the Santa Fe Eagle which is edited by J. Christ we note a headline which reads: "Lord Have Mercy." It is only appropriate that Christ should pray at this time, knowing and realizing that after the November election he is to be led through the garden of Gethsemane and nailed to the cross.

SAN JUAN'S DAY PICNIC

A San Juan Day picnic will be held tomorrow, Saturday, June 24, at Rabenton. Quite a program in the way of horse racing, goat roping, baseball games, dancing, etc., will be had. At noon a big barbecue will be served and a good time is promised to everyone who attends.

THE PARAGON OF JAILERS

Among the fortunate mortals must be included the present warden of the state penitentiary. He has spent one third more money yearly than either Bursam, Trelford and Romero; has seen more evasions, disorders, riots and incendiary fires than all of them combined; several ugly scandals have hobbled up during his administration, and the hand of famine is reported to have been laid heavily at times among the convicts, but all those drawbacks have disappeared without leaving any trace under the benign influence of constant praise and iron-clad official support, and now Mr. McManus has seen himself transformed into the paragon of jailers.—Taos Valley News.

San Antonio, N. M., June 21.—Powell Stockhouse, the coal operator here, has sent his check for $800 to state engineer James A. French as the contribution of the local coal man for the state highway to connect San Antonio to Carrizozo. This road will be known officially as highway No. 13 and will connect the eastern tier of counties with the Camino Real and the Ocean to Ocean highway. The road is estimated to cost $60,000 and will pass through Oseuro.

OAKLAND AGENT FOR COUNTY

Wayne Hamilton has been appointed agent for the "Oakland" car and has the counties of Lincoln, Torrance and Otero as a territory. He has already sold several cars in Carrizozo which will be delivered within the next ten days. The "Oakland" which is just being introduced in this territory is one of the best cars on the market and is one which appeals to the person who wishes a modern car at a reasonable figure. They are turning out the four, six, and eight cylinder machines.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

Assessor Henry M. Corn was here from Esbenton Tuesday enroute to Tucumcari where he went to accompany his son, Virgil, home who has been confined in a hospital at that place. Young Corn who was seriously injured by a run away team at Coyote some two or three weeks ago stood the trip nicely, and is thought to be out of danger. The father and son went out to Rabenton Wednesday evening.

Mrs. H. B. Hamilton and sons came in Tuesday evening from Roswell where they had been for the past two weeks visiting with Mrs. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira P. Wetmore. They left the following day, accompanied by Mr. Hamilton, for Alamogordo, where they will spend a few days.

NEW PAPER FOR TUCUMCARI

Volume 1, No. 1, of the Tucumcari American has reached our desk and if its standard is to be judged from its initial issue it will be one of the best papers in the Sunshine State. It is a seven column, six page paper and Tucumcari business firms are well represented by attractive and well displayed advertising. S. M. Wharton, a former Lincoln County man is the editor. In his salutary Mr. Wharton says the paper is Republican, not because the editor was raised that way, but by preference. The Outlook predicts success for the American and trusts she will always live up to her patriotic name.
